DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-6, 8-13, and 15-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Briddell, Des. 229,739. As can be seen from the figure, each of the claimed elements is shown. An ergonomic handle structure for a tool is disclosed, the tool being a knife, the handle including an elongated member, a thumb support member projecting laterally to accommodate a user's thumb as claimed (see figure 4). The concave recess surface of the support are shown, as claimed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 7, 14, and 21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Briddell. As far as a first thin portion, a second thin portion, and a broad portion, as claimed, it has been well established in the art of handles to include such shape modifications in the handle of a tool or implement, as evidenced by Lamb, US Patent Des. 186,021. It would have been an obvious matter of design choice to make the different portions of the device of Briddell of whatever form or shape was desired or expedient. A change in form or shape is generally recognized as being within the level of ordinary skill in the art, absent any showing of unexpected results. In re Dailey et al., 149 USPQ 47. Such a modification is not critical to the design and would have produced no unexpected results.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments filed 11/5/04 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant argues that Biddell does not provide the thumb support projecting laterally in an asymmetrical location, as claimed, that is critical to the applicant's design. It is the position of the examiner that the design of Biddell clearly shows the claimed subject matter, as shown particularly in figures 2 and 4. Applicant has not sufficiently claimed his invention to overcome the art of record.

Applicant argues that studies have shown that such a design achieves particular desired result in gripping. It is the position of the examiner that the claim language does not include any limitations distinguishing it from the applied art of record.

Conclusion

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
